NOT ONE TRACE

Friends and Relatives of Man Who Disappeared Ten Weeks Ago Have Searched the Continent for Him in Vain.

BELIEVE HIM TO BE ALIVE.

No Reason for Flight, So They Think de Wandered Away While De 'an_.d from Overwork, a Victim of Lost Memory.

Despite the efforts of the police of various cities, private detectives, the world of clairvoyants and the determined search by relatives, the fate of Charles T. Blaisdell, cashier for Curtis & Blaisdell, coal dealers, at No. 120 iberty street, is as much of a mystery as on the night of his disappear

Clues without number have been fol lowed all over the United States and into Mexico and Canada, without avail Theories have been advanced and followed to their logical conclusions, ye Blaisdell is still hidden from view, as completely as though the ground at Lexington avenue and East Fifty-fourth street had opened, swallowed him and then closed again.

E. E. Reu, who was Blaisdell's room mate for six years at No. 141 East Fifty-seventh street, first held to the idea that Blaisdell had been lured to the coal docks at the foot of East Fifty sixth street, where he was cashier, murdered for the $1,000 worth of diamonds which he wore and his body thrown into the river. But no traces of the body were discovered, and now Mr. Reu believes his friend is alive and will some day return. All of the missing man's clothes, over forty suits, his diamonds, about $4,000 worth, and his personal, effects are still preserved at Mrs. Wellman's, where he roomed, awaiting his reappearance.

Belleve He Has Wandered Off.

"As Blaisdell was a man of most ex cellent habits, neither smoking, drinking, gaming nor in love; a young man with the brightest of prospects, whose firancial matters were in the best possi ble condition," said Mr. Reu, "we are ecmpelled to fall back on the theory that overwork temporarily unhinged his brain, causing a lapse of memory, and that while in this condition Mr. Blais dell has wandered away.

James T. Abell, manager of the coal docks where the missing man was employed, now holds a similar theory, although at first he feared that Blaisdell had been murdered.

"The firm and family have spared no expense in following clues which might reveal the fate of Mr. Blaisdell," said Manager Abell, "It is only last week that we thought he had been located at Duluth, Minn., but investigation showe! our error. False leads, information, the

"Charles T. Blaisdell placed a young woman on a car at Lexington avenue and East Fifty-sixth street on the night of April 7 at 10.30 o'clock. That is the last we know of his movements. The search is being prosecuted and will be so long as there is any hope of finding

'DIPLOMAS" WERE ONLY BLANK PAPER

Sixty-three "Graduates" Who Participated in the Exercises of the Brooklyn Manual Training High School Indignant.

Members of the graduating class of the Manual Training High School, of Brooklyn, their parents and friends are in a great state of indignation to-day over the commencement exercises held last evening in the Columbia Theatre. According to the angry pupils the ex ercises were all a bluff. The applause and the flowers, the dainty gowns of and the flowers, the dainty gowns of the sweet girl graduates, the young men in their first frock coats, the diplomas with the long blue ribbons, the throng police uniforms worn by the special powith the long blue ribbons, the throng of admiring and perspiring friends were all in evidence, and still it was all a bluff, the sixty-three members of the class declare, because when they opened their "diplomas" they found only sheets their "diplomas" they found only sheets of blank paper.

They were told later when they demanded an explanation that the examination papers had not yet been corrected and no diplomas could be issued until that interesting crisis had been passed. The young women, who formed 90 per cent. of the graduating class, shed bitter tears over the deception to which they had been made parties.

"Think what I made my father pay for this dress," exclaimed one indignant miss. "I can faney what he will say if I haven't passed that examination."

The outlook is not improved by the fact that Superintendent Maxwell, when the fine came around for examination, conceived the brilliant idea of not having the final examination based on the work of the past year, but of the entire feur years of the high school course. No one was any too sure that he or she had scraped through. That was why there was so much joy when the diplomas were handed out last evening and so much grief when they proved to be conly blank paper.

Commissioner Greene is not satisfied with the way the law is being enforced at Coney Island. He issued orders to-day transferring Capt. William Knipe from Coney Island to Butler street, Brooklyn. The Coney Island precinct will be given to Capt. Robert E. Dooley, now of the Bedford avenue precinct, and his place will be taken by Capt. Edward J. Toole, o Butler street.

Capt. Dooley is known as a "terror at enforcing the Excise law. Coney Island shivered when it heard the news. In view of the continued cold and we weather the saloon and concert hal men had hoped that the Commisssioner Accounts Straight to a Cent.

"It was suggested that the accounts of Blaisdell might give a reason for his disappearance. These were examined and, we are happy to say, were found correct to a cent.

"Mr. Blaisdell was greatly worried during the coal strike, and worked hard and late to see four customers were supplied. This may have proved too shots had been fired in a skirmish in which several men and boys tried to climb ove: the fence into the park during a picnic of the Cigar-Makers' Union, were discharged to-day by Magistrate Ommen in Morrisania Court.

Two complaniants who were injured by bullets, Ceorge Hohman and Warren Pettit, were to have appeared against the Brommer brothers, but only Hohman, who was the more severely wounded, having received a bullet in the groin, appeared in court to-day.

Hohman identified Lawrence Brommer as the man who fired the shots. Harry Provost, of No. 549 East One Hundred and Thirty fifth street, said Alois had done the shooting. Under the conflict of evidence Magistrate Ommen discharged the defendants.

THREE ROUTES

There are three roads which lead from health to consumption. Over one of these roads pass all that great multitude of people—a sad, a mounful procession—who die every year of consumption. Each route begins with health and happiness and ends with disease and death.

FIRST ROAD:

A slight cold, neglected, set-tles in the head or throat-chronic catarrh-extends to the lungs-consumption-death.

SECOND ROAD: A slight cold—neglected cough—chronic bronchitis—settles in the lungs—cough gradually grows worse—consumption—death.

THIRD ROAD:

A cold neglected—settles in the throat—hoarseness—short breath—chronic asthma—consumption death.

Thousands have just started on one of these roads—thousands are half way to the fatal end of one of these roads, who are still curable by the wonderful and beneficial power of the Koch Inhalation.

By means of the Koch Tuberculine the deadly bacilli that destroy the lung tissues and lung cells are speedily killed—the suppurating parts are healed up and the stringy, poisonous mucus is cleared from the nose, throat and lungs, while renewed strength, health and a permanent cure follows this treatment.

The Koch lymph is vaporized and readily broathed through all the air passages of the nose and throat, directly down into the deepest recesses of the lungs—cleansing, purifying, healing and curing the inflamed tissues.

Perspiration—"sweat" is what the Bible and we common people call it is a way nature has of driving out of the body refuse that has no business there. We sweat more in summer because, in the overheated bowels, undigested food ferments more quickly than in winter and produces irritating acids and gases. The bowels, overworked, try to relieve themselves by violent convulsions, causing terrible gripes and colics, and diarrhoeal discharges so acid as to make you sore, and leaving the intestines weak and worn out. Nature assists body-cleaning by sending the filth out through the pores of the skin. It is not safe to stop perspiring altogether, but most of the impure matter should be sent out by the natural movements of the bowels, and the offensive, ill - smelling, linenstaining sweat done away with. Keep your bowels strong all summer with the pleasant candy cathartic CASCARETS, that clean the system and don't allow the excrement to be sweated out through the pores. Take a tablet every night be-fore going to bed. They work while you sleep and make you feel fine and cool all day.
